1. Several (? vegetable) oil mills are all that remain of the Japanese-established factories in Dairen. The Japanese had set up 353 factories there, 84 with heavy industrial equipment and 269 with light industrial equipment. Equipment from one large shipyard has been removed to Khabarovsk. These disruptions in industry have brought about wholesale unemployment.
2. The living standard in Dairen has dropped to a sub-normal level. Kaoliang costs $370 per catty, corn $400 per catty, and coal $40 per catty.
Note: Prices are presumably in Tungpei currency. A previous report stated that the price of corn for May 1947 was Tungpei $85 per catty.)
